

What we do

Mission

The Office of the Attorney General of Switzerland, a self-governing and institutionally independent federal authority, is responsible for prosecuting cases under federal jurisdiction (Art. 23 and 24 Criminal Procedure Code); it is also responsible for executing the requests for mutual assistance and enforcing the judgments that fall within its remit.

We focus our human and financial resources on working to achieve this mission.

How we do it

Strategy

Definition of priorities in crime policy

Professional specialisation and strategies in individual fields of crime and task forces

Cooperation with Swiss and foreign partner authorities

Efficient and effective support for the core business, including the provision of suitable tools

Suitable professional development opportunities for staff and a motivating working environment

What we are seeking to achieve

Goals